

LOCAL.

The last transport sent north returned home on Sunday.

The municipal police court took in $20 in fine in one day last week.

Walter McVittie and a friend are about to start a farm at the Big Bend.

The town council did not meet on Wednesday night owing to the banquet to Steele's Scouts and Hatton's Rifles.

The profits on the concert held last week on behalf of the Fish church amounted to $100. This is an excellent showing.

Six men were brought before the Mayor on Monday and fined $12 and costs each for throwing darts at the bar for early hours.

The Calgary Dramatic Club intent in a few days to present on the stage some of the plays by which they earned their early laurels.

A cricket match was played on Wednesday between Calgary and the Mounted Rifles, the former winning in a single innings by over forty runs.

No one in the city ponders much how far it is to Lethbridge that cows and horses will be prevented from running loose in their present promiscuous manner within the municipal limits.

Chief Commissioner Wrigley of the B.C. Co. arrived from the east on Sunday. With Mr. Hunter he will remain until Monday to take care of the details of the departure of H. B. Stotes in that country.

Rev. Father Ledue arrived on Sunday with five sisters who have been engaged during the past two years at St. Laurent, but who, now that the village is destroyed, are removed to the police.

The large firm of T. C. Power & Co., putting up a handsome store on Stephen Avenue, next the Rossin house, The greater part of the goods belonging to the firm at Maple Creek will be transferred here.

The following new arrivals are stopping at the Royal: Capt. Wilson, his wife and son; Dr. MacLeod, Professor Macdonald, Ottawa; Duncan Cameron and J. Company of Farwell; and W. R. Hull, of the 2nd Crossing.

Alderman Hallam, of Toronto, who returned home on Saturday, says that a man who buys a close margin has no use for this country. The man here are too slow about trading and it costs too much to follow them round.

Sgt.-Major Watton, Sgt.-Major Wilde, Gordon Riddell, and 27th Service belonging to Calvary and Sgt.-Major Ferguson, Horner and O'Conor, with 15 men belonging to MacLeod—51 men and 60 horses in all—arrived by yesterday's train from the east.

Baudoin and Clark are erecting a music hall, 24 by 25, in the rear of the saloon. A beautiful upright piano from the Dominion Organ Co.'s works at Bowmansville has arrived for the hall. When the room is finished it will be one of the handsomest in town.

Rev. O. German, formerly of the Oxford and Norway House, is expected presently from England. He has been for the past two years translating the Methodist hymnal and ritual into Cree. Mr. German will take the mission of the late Rev. Mr. Steiner, who started his mission at Whitefish Lake 28 years ago.

We have received an intimation that the presentation to the band on behalf of the Dominion Day Sports committee was not from the Sports committee but from Messrs. J. Clark, F. W. Padmore and J. C. M. Darle, who thought that the service band deserved that recognition and made up a purse of $200 accordingly.

The cook of the Big Hill Lumber Mill had a narrow escape Friday while riding into town. The rider tried to light a cigarette, using both hands for the purpose, and something occurring to frigideen the horse, he was thrown off and dragged forty or fifty yards by one foot which caught in the stirrup. Luckily the horse was stopped before much damage was done.

Mr. Youmans, from Whitfield lake, is staying in town. Mr. Youmans is Methodist missionary in Polson's band. It will be remembered that Pekan is the chief who twice received letters from Big Bear, and that he was captured and held in prison so many other bands were doing. Luckily he remained loyal, and it was owing to his friendly office that Mr. Youmans escaped safely to Victoria. Mr. Youmans thinks the Indians of Whitfield lake have recovered their equilibrium and have no idea of rising again.

It will not be surprising if the Mounties find when they do get paid off that they are out of pocket by the campaign. When these scouts were first recruited and horses sent to a minimum price and the mounts only because their horses on condition that if the price was deducted out of their pay, the Mounties would buy their horses from them at the end of the campaign. The horses were to have been paid for at a minimum price and the mounts only because their horses on condition that if the price was deducted out of their pay, the Mounties

Police would buy their horses from them at the end of the campaign.

The horses were to have been paid for at a minimum price and the mounts only because their horses on condition that if the price was deducted out of their pay, the Mounties would buy their horses from them at the end of the campaign.

Mr. Geo. H. Elliott, Calgary correspondent of the Winnipeg Times, leaves for the east presently, he having accepted a position in the Toronto Mail.

This is a striking case from the mountains. Haskin was brought before Inspector Steele yesterday and committed for trial in British Columbia. He was let out on bail.

Three carloads of milling machinery for the Big Hill Lumber Co. have arrived at Cochrane. The machinery will be put in immediately and the mill start work soon after August.

The Calgary Dramatic Company hope to give their first performance of the season this day week. The company has not all got together yet, but when it does look for something elegant.

Fleischmann, the Jew, who succeeds Mr. Mrs. Perchett, of Medicine Hat, of obtaining jewelry from him under false pretences, has succeeded in having Mrs. Perchett arrested in Winnipeg. She will be brought here for trial.

Today's telegraphic despatches are of interest to us all. The news which is at present lying over Alberta seems to say as New York and London. In London the state of affairs must be appalling. What would not the east give for our cool thoughts?

The return of the Mounted Police has made it necessary for Major McTavish's department to transact their business elsewhere. The major has accordingly hired Captain Hamilton's house, formerly occupied by Howard Douglas, as a temporary and supply office.

The death of Mr. Fulthorpe of the St. Lawrence Hall, Winnipeg, by falling over Stony Creek bridge, 265 feet, was chronicled in the Evening Herald of the 21st, although the name of the deceased was not known. Star Creek bridge is twelve miles from the mouth of Beaver Creek.

The following post office will be open for locked boxes on Sundays from 3 to 4 p.m.: The following post offices will be open on Mondays: It is only to be hoped that the repart of it, still as Mr. King intends presently to introduce the patent plate-glass boxes, which open from the outside, it will not be long before all post boxes will share to come to Alberta to get through, to come to Alberta to get through,

The death of Rev. E. Glass' son, from Oregon and British Columbia where they were looking for land to settle on, have now gone to the Red Deer Co.'s lands, where they inform Dr. Ferguson that the boy is in the employ of the railway. They are a number of British Columbians still waiting for the railway to get through, to come to Alberta to get through,

• • •

Barrie Hill Indians

Mr. Jarrett and Cushing have been staying up Rev. E. Glass' house on Saturday. Mr. Jarrett states that there is a large number of Indians here and that Chief Sampson has warned Mr. Glass not to stay in his house until he is afraid the Bear Hill band will have him on the rampage before winter sets in. These bands had a rather good time in the summer and they have not been officially informed that his defense was useless unless he was prepared to swear that all of his friends were to be shot if he stayed in his house.

Such is our correspondence account of the agrarian trouble at the City of Fairview, Alberta. It is difficult to admit that it is an impartial account. It is still an important contribution to the history of a town which seems destined presently to be of some importance.

Barrie Hill Indians

Mr. Jarrett and Cushing have been staying up Rev. E. Glass' house on Saturday. Mr. Jarrett states that there is a large number of Indians here and that Chief Sampson has warned Mr. Glass not to stay in his house until he is afraid the Bear Hill band will have him on the rampage before winter sets in. These bands had a rather good time in the summer and they have not been officially informed that his defense was useless unless he was prepared to swear that all of his friends were to be shot if he stayed in his house.

Such is our correspondence account of the agrarian trouble at the City of Fairview, Alberta. It is difficult to admit that it is an impartial account. It is still an important contribution to the history of a town which seems destined presently to be of some importance.

Barrie Hill Indians

Mr. Jarrett and Cushing have been staying up Rev. E. Glass' house on Saturday. Mr. Jarrett states that there is a large number of Indians here and that Chief Sampson has warned Mr. Glass not to stay in his house until he is afraid the Bear Hill band will have him on the rampage before winter sets in. These bands had a rather good time in the summer and they have not been officially informed that his defense was useless unless he was prepared to swear that all of his friends were to be shot if he stayed in his house.

Such is our correspondence account of the agrarian trouble at the City of Fairview, Alberta. It is difficult to admit that it is an impartial account. It is still an important contribution to the history of a town which seems destined presently to be of some importance.

Staying Up New Times:

Mr. Jarrett, of Jarrett and Cushing, has been staying up Rev. E. Glass' house on Saturday. Mr. Jarrett states that there is a large number of Indians here and that Chief Sampson has warned Mr. Glass not to stay in his house until he is afraid the Bear Hill band will have him on the rampage before winter sets in. These bands had a rather good time in the summer and they have not been officially informed that his defense was useless unless he was prepared to swear that all of his friends were to be shot if he stayed in his house.

Such is our correspondence account of the agrarian trouble at the City of Fairview, Alberta. It is difficult to admit that it is an impartial account. It is still an important contribution to the history of a town which seems destined presently to be of some importance.

Staying Up New Times:

Mr. Jarrett and Cushing have been staying up Rev. E. Glass' house on Saturday. Mr. Jarrett states that there is a large number of Indians here and that Chief Sampson has warned Mr. Glass not to stay in his house until he is afraid the Bear Hill band will have him on the rampage before winter sets in. These bands had a rather good time in the summer and they have not been officially informed that his defense was useless unless he was prepared to swear that all of his friends were to be shot if he stayed in his house.

Such is our correspondence account of the agrarian trouble at the City of Fairview, Alberta. It is difficult to admit that it is an impartial account. It is still an important contribution to the history of a town which seems destined presently to be of some importance.

Staying Up New Times:

Mr. Jarrett and Cushing have been staying up Rev. E. Glass' house on Saturday. Mr. Jarrett states that there is a large number of Indians here and that Chief Sampson has warned Mr. Glass not to stay in his house until he is afraid the Bear Hill band will have him on the rampage before winter sets in. These bands had a rather good time in the summer and they have not been officially informed that his defense was useless unless he was prepared to swear that all of his friends were to be shot if he stayed in his house.

Such is our correspondence account of the agrarian trouble at the City of Fairview, Alberta. It is difficult to admit that it is an impartial account. It is still an important contribution to the history of a town which seems destined presently to be of some importance.

Staying Up New Times:

Mr. Jarrett and Cushing have been staying up Rev. E. Glass' house on Saturday. Mr. Jarrett states that there is a large number of Indians here and that Chief Sampson has warned Mr. Glass not to stay in his house until he is afraid the Bear Hill band will have him on the rampage before winter sets in. These bands had a rather good time in the summer and they have not been officially informed that his defense was useless unless he was prepared to swear that all of his friends were to be shot if he stayed in his house.

Such is our correspondence account of the agrarian trouble at the City of Fairview, Alberta. It is difficult to admit that it is an impartial account. It is still an important contribution to the history of a town which seems destined presently to be of some importance.

Staying Up New Times:

Mr. Jarrett and Cushing have been staying up Rev. E. Glass' house on Saturday. Mr. Jarrett states that there is a large number of Indians here and that Chief Sampson has warned Mr. Glass not to stay in his house until he is afraid the Bear Hill band will have him on the rampage before winter sets in. These bands had a rather good time in the summer and they have not been officially informed that his defense was useless unless he was prepared to swear that all of his friends were to be shot if he stayed in his house.

Such is our correspondence account of the agrarian trouble at the City of Fairview, Alberta. It is difficult to admit that it is an impartial account. It is still an important contribution to the history of a town which seems destined presently to be of some importance.

Staying Up New Times:

Mr. Jarrett and Cushing have been staying up Rev. E. Glass' house on Saturday. Mr. Jarrett states that there is a large number of Indians here and that Chief Sampson has warned Mr. Glass not to stay in his house until he is afraid the Bear Hill band will have him on the rampage before winter sets in. These bands had a rather good time in the summer and they have not been officially informed that his defense was useless unless he was prepared to swear that all of his friends were to be shot if he stayed in his house.

Such is our correspondence account of the agrarian trouble at the City of Fairview, Alberta. It is difficult to admit that it is an impartial account. It is still an important contribution to the history of a town which seems destined presently to be of some importance.

Staying Up New Times:

Mr. Jarrett and Cushing have been staying up Rev. E. Glass' house on Saturday. Mr. Jarrett states that there is a large number of Indians here and that Chief Sampson has warned Mr. Glass not to stay in his house until he is afraid the Bear Hill band will have him on the rampage before winter sets in. These bands had a rather good time in the summer and they have not been officially informed that his defense was useless unless he was prepared to swear that all of his friends were to be shot if he stayed in his house.

Such is our correspondence account of the agrarian trouble at the City of Fairview, Alberta. It is difficult to admit that it is an impartial account. It is still an important contribution to the history of a town which seems destined presently to be of some importance.

Staying Up New Times:

Mr. Jarrett and Cushing have been staying up Rev. E. Glass' house on Saturday. Mr. Jarrett states that there is a large number of Indians here and that Chief Sampson has warned Mr. Glass not to stay in his house until he is afraid the Bear Hill band will have him on the rampage before winter sets in. These bands had a rather good time in the summer and they have not been officially informed that his defense was useless unless he was prepared to swear that all of his friends were to be shot if he stayed in his house.

Such is our correspondence account of the agrarian trouble at the City of Fairview, Alberta. It is difficult to admit that it is an impartial account. It is still an important contribution to the history of a town which seems destined presently to be of some importance.

Staying Up New Times:

Mr. Jarrett and Cushing have been staying up Rev. E. Glass' house on Saturday. Mr. Jarrett states that there is a large number of Indians here and that Chief Sampson has warned Mr. Glass not to stay in his house until he is afraid the Bear Hill band will have him on the rampage before winter sets in. These bands had a rather good time in the summer and they have not been officially informed that his defense was useless unless he was prepared to swear that all of his friends were to be shot if he stayed in his house.

Such is our correspondence account of the agrarian trouble at the City of Fairview, Alberta. It is difficult to admit that it is an impartial account. It is still an important contribution to the history of a town which seems destined presently to be of some importance.

Staying Up New Times:

Mr. Jarrett and Cushing have been staying up Rev. E. Glass' house on Saturday. Mr. Jarrett states that there is a large number of Indians here and that Chief Sampson has warned Mr. Glass not to stay in his house until he is afraid the Bear Hill band will have him on the rampage before winter sets in. These bands had a rather good time in the summer and they have not been officially informed that his defense was useless unless he was prepared to swear that all of his friends were to be shot if he stayed in his house.

Such is our correspondence account of the agrarian trouble at the City of Fairview, Alberta. It is difficult to admit that it is an impartial account. It is still an important contribution to the history of a town which seems destined presently to be of some importance.

Staying Up New Times:

Mr. Jarrett and Cushing have been staying up Rev. E. Glass' house on Saturday. Mr. Jarrett states that there is a large number of Indians here and that Chief Sampson has warned Mr. Glass not to stay in his house until he is afraid the Bear Hill band will have him on the rampage before winter sets in. These bands had a rather good time in the summer and they have not been officially informed that his defense was useless unless he was prepared to swear that all of his friends were to be shot if he stayed in his house.

Such is our correspondence account of the agrarian trouble at the City of Fairview, Alberta. It is difficult to admit that it is an impartial account. It is still an important contribution to the history of a town which seems destined presently to be of some importance.

Staying Up New Times:

Mr. Jarrett and Cushing have been staying up Rev. E. Glass' house on Saturday. Mr. Jarrett states that there is a large number of Indians here and that Chief Sampson has warned Mr. Glass not to stay in his house until he is afraid the Bear Hill band will have him on the rampage before winter sets in. These bands had a rather good time in the summer and they have not been officially informed that his defense was useless unless he was prepared to swear that all of his friends were to be shot if he stayed in his house.

Such is our correspondence account of the agrarian trouble at the City of Fairview, Alberta. It is difficult to admit that it is an impartial account. It is still an important contribution to the history of a town which seems destined presently to be of some importance.

Staying Up New Times:

Mr. Jarrett and Cushing have been staying up Rev. E. Glass' house on Saturday. Mr. Jarrett states that there is a large number of Indians here and that Chief Sampson has warned Mr. Glass not to stay in his house until he is afraid the Bear Hill band will have him on the rampage before winter sets in. These bands had a rather good time in the summer and they have not been officially informed that his defense was useless unless he was prepared to swear that all of his friends were to be shot if he stayed in his house.

Such is our correspondence account of the agrarian trouble at the City of Fairview, Alberta. It is difficult to admit that it is an impartial account. It is still an important contribution to the history of a town which seems destined presently to be of some importance.

Staying Up New Times:

Mr. Jarrett and Cushing have been staying up Rev. E. Glass' house on Saturday. Mr. Jarrett states that there is a large number of Indians here and that Chief Sampson has warned Mr. Glass not to stay in his house until he is afraid the Bear Hill band will have him on the rampage before winter sets in. These bands had a rather good time in the summer and they have not been officially informed that his defense was useless unless he was prepared to swear that all of his friends were to be shot if he stayed in his house.

Such is our correspondence account of the agrarian trouble at the City of Fairview, Alberta. It is difficult to admit that it is an impartial account. It is still an important contribution to the history of a town which seems destined presently to be of some importance.

Staying Up New Times:

Mr. Jarrett and Cushing have been staying up Rev. E. Glass' house on Saturday. Mr. Jarrett states that there is a large number of Indians here and that Chief Sampson has warned Mr. Glass not to stay in his house until he is afraid the Bear Hill band will have him on the rampage before winter sets in. These bands had a rather good time in the summer and they have not been officially informed that his defense was useless unless he was prepared to swear that all of his friends were to be shot if he stayed in his house.

Such is our correspondence account of the agrarian trouble at the City of Fairview, Alberta. It is difficult to admit that it is an impartial account. It is still an important contribution to the history of a town which seems destined presently to be of some importance.

Staying Up New Times:

Mr. Jarrett and Cushing have been staying up Rev. E. Glass' house on Saturday. Mr. Jarrett states that there is a large number of Indians here and that Chief Sampson has warned Mr. Glass not to stay in his house until he is afraid the Bear Hill band will have him on the rampage before winter sets in. These bands had a rather good time in the summer and they have not been officially informed that his defense was useless unless he was prepared to swear that all of his friends were to be shot if he stayed in his house.

Such is our correspondence account of the agrarian trouble at the City of Fairview, Alberta. It is difficult to admit that it is an impartial account. It is still an important contribution to the history of a town which seems destined presently to be of some importance.

Staying Up New Times:

Mr. Jarrett and Cushing have been staying up Rev. E. Glass' house on Saturday. Mr. Jarrett states that there is a large number of Indians here and that Chief Sampson has warned Mr. Glass not to stay in his house until he is afraid the Bear Hill band will have him on the rampage before winter sets in. These bands had a rather good time in the summer and they have not been officially informed that his defense was useless unless he was prepared to swear that all of his friends were to be shot if he stayed in his house.

Such is our correspondence account of the agrarian trouble at the City of Fairview, Alberta. It is difficult to admit that it is an impartial account. It is still an important contribution to the history of a town which seems destined presently to be of some importance.

Staying Up New Times:

Mr. Jarrett and Cushing have been staying up Rev. E. Glass' house on Saturday. Mr. Jarrett states that there is a large number of Indians here and that Chief Sampson has warned Mr. Glass not to stay in his house until he is afraid the Bear Hill band will have him on the rampage before winter sets in. These bands had a rather good time in the summer and they have not been officially informed that his defense was useless unless he was prepared to swear that all of his friends were to be shot if he stayed in his house.

Such is our correspondence account of the agrarian trouble at the City of Fairview, Alberta. It is difficult to admit that it is an impartial account. It is still an important contribution to the history of a town which seems destined presently to be of some importance.

Staying Up New Times:

Mr. Jarrett and Cushing have been staying up Rev. E. Glass' house on Saturday. Mr. Jarrett states that there is a large number of Indians here and that Chief Sampson has warned Mr. Glass not to stay in his house until he is afraid the Bear Hill band will have him on the rampage before winter sets in. These bands had a rather good time in the summer and they have not been officially informed that his defense was useless unless he was prepared to swear that all of his friends were to be shot if he stayed in his house.

Such is our correspondence account of the agrarian trouble at the City of Fairview, Alberta. It is difficult to admit that it is an impartial account. It is still an important contribution to the history of a town which seems destined presently to be of some importance.

Staying Up New Times:

Mr. Jarrett and Cushing have been staying up Rev. E. Glass' house on Saturday. Mr. Jarrett states that there is a large number of Indians here and that Chief Sampson has warned Mr. Glass not to stay in his house until he is afraid the Bear Hill band will have him on the rampage before winter sets in. These bands had a rather good time in the summer and they have not been officially informed that his defense was useless unless he was prepared to swear that all of his friends were to be shot if he stayed in his house.

Such is our correspondence account of the agrarian trouble at the City of Fairview, Alberta. It is difficult to admit that it is an impartial account. It is still an important contribution to the history of a town which seems destined presently to be of some importance.

Staying Up New Times:

Mr. Jarrett and Cushing have been staying up Rev. E. Glass' house on Saturday. Mr. Jarrett states that there is a large number of Indians here and that Chief Sampson has warned Mr. Glass not to stay in his house until he is afraid the Bear Hill band will have him on the rampage before winter sets in. These bands had a rather good time in the summer and they have not been officially informed that his defense was useless unless he was prepared to swear that all of his friends were to be shot if he stayed in his house.

Such is our correspondence account of the agrarian trouble at the City of Fairview, Alberta. It is difficult to admit that it is an impartial account. It is still an important contribution to the history of a town which seems destined presently to be of some importance.

Staying Up New Times:

Mr. Jarrett and Cushing have been staying up Rev. E. Glass' house on Saturday. Mr. Jarrett states that there is a large number of Indians here and that Chief Sampson has warned Mr. Glass not to stay in his house until he is afraid the Bear Hill band will have him on the rampage before winter sets in. These bands had a rather good time in the summer and they have not been officially informed that his defense was useless unless he was prepared to swear that all of his friends were to be shot if he stayed in his house.

Such is our correspondence account of the agrarian trouble at the City of Fairview, Alberta. It is difficult to admit that it is an impartial account. It is still an important contribution to the history of a town which seems destined presently to be of some importance.

Staying Up New Times:

Mr. Jarrett and Cushing have been staying up Rev. E. Glass' house on Saturday. Mr. Jarrett states that there is a large number of Indians here and that Chief Sampson has warned Mr. Glass not to stay in his house until he is afraid the Bear Hill band will have him on the rampage before winter sets in. These bands had a rather good time in the summer and they have not been officially informed that his defense was useless unless he was prepared to swear that all of his friends were to be shot if he stayed in his house.

Such is our correspondence account of the agrarian trouble at the City of Fairview, Alberta. It is difficult to admit that it is an impartial account. It is still an important contribution to the history of a town which seems destined presently to be of some importance.

Staying Up New Times:

Mr. Jarrett and Cushing have been staying up Rev. E. Glass' house on Saturday. Mr. Jarrett states that there is a large number of Indians here and that Chief Sampson has warned Mr. Glass not to stay in his house until he is afraid the Bear Hill band will have him on the rampage before winter sets in. These bands had a rather good time in the summer and they have not been officially informed that his defense was useless unless he was prepared to swear that all of his friends were to be shot if he stayed in his house.

Such is our correspondence account of the agrarian trouble at the City of Fairview, Alberta. It is difficult to admit that it is an impartial account. It is still an important contribution to the history of a town which seems destined presently to be of some importance.

Staying Up New Times:

Mr. Jarrett and Cushing have been staying up Rev. E. Glass' house on Saturday. Mr. Jarrett states that there is a large number of Indians here and that Chief Sampson has warned Mr. Glass not to stay in his house until he is afraid the Bear Hill band will have him on the rampage before winter sets in. These bands had a rather good time in the summer and they have not been officially informed that his defense was useless unless he was prepared to swear that all of his friends were to be shot if he stayed in his house.

Such is our correspondence account of the agrarian trouble at the City of Fairview, Alberta. It is difficult to admit that it is an impartial account. It is still an important contribution to the history of a town which seems destined presently to be of some importance.

Staying Up New Times:

Mr. Jarrett and Cushing have been staying up Rev. E. Glass' house on Saturday. Mr. Jarrett states that there is a large number of Indians here and that Chief Sampson has warned Mr. Glass not to stay in his house until he is afraid the Bear Hill band will have him on the rampage before winter sets in. These bands had a rather good time in the summer and they have not been officially informed that his defense was useless unless he was prepared to swear that all of his friends were to be shot if he stayed in his house.

Such is our correspondence account of the agrarian trouble at the City of Fairview, Alberta. It is difficult to admit that it is an impartial account. It is still an important contribution to the history of a town which seems destined presently to be of some importance.

Staying Up New Times:

Mr. Jarrett and Cushing have been staying up Rev. E. Glass' house on Saturday. Mr. Jarrett states that there is a large number of Indians here and that Chief Sampson has warned Mr. Glass not to stay in his house until he is afraid the Bear Hill band will have him on the rampage before winter sets in. These bands had a rather good time in the summer and they have not been officially informed that his defense was useless unless he was prepared to swear that all of his friends were to be shot if he stayed in his house.

Such is our correspondence account of the agrarian trouble at the City of Fairview, Alberta. It is difficult to admit that it is an impartial account. It is still an important contribution to the history of a town which seems destined presently to be of some importance.

Staying Up New Times:

Mr. Jarrett and Cushing have been staying up Rev. E. Glass' house on Saturday. Mr. Jarrett states that there is a large number of Indians here and that Chief Sampson has warned Mr. Glass not to stay in his house until he is afraid the Bear Hill band will have him on the rampage before winter sets in. These bands had a rather good time in the summer and they have not been officially informed that his defense was useless unless he was prepared to swear that all of his friends were to be shot if he stayed in his house.

Such is our correspondence account of the agrarian trouble at the City of Fairview, Alberta. It is difficult to admit that it is an impartial account. It is still an important contribution to the history of a town which seems destined presently to be of some importance.

Staying Up New Times:

Mr. Jarrett and Cushing have been staying up Rev. E. Glass' house on Saturday. Mr. Jarrett states that there is a large number of Indians here and that Chief Sampson has warned Mr. Glass not to stay in his house until he is afraid the Bear Hill band will have him on the rampage before winter sets in. These bands had a rather good time in the summer and they have not been officially informed that his defense was useless unless he was prepared to swear that all of his friends were to be shot if he stayed in his house.

Such is our correspondence account of the agrarian trouble at the City of Fairview, Alberta. It is difficult to admit that it is an impartial account. It is still an important contribution to the history of a town which seems destined presently to be of some importance.

Staying Up New Times:

Mr. Jarrett and Cushing have been staying up Rev. E. Glass' house on Saturday. Mr. Jarrett states that there is a large number of Indians here and that Chief Sampson has warned Mr. Glass not to stay in his house until he is afraid the Bear Hill band will have him on the rampage before winter sets in. These bands had a rather good time in the summer and they have not been officially informed that his defense was useless unless he was